

CALL FOR PAPER SUBMISSION

DEADLINE: October 15, 2010

Journal of History, Literature, Science and Technology (JHLiST)

Only conference participants will be invited to submit an article in English or Spanish (20- to 25-page long including notes and bibliography: approximately 6,500 words) and an abstract in ENGLISH (100 words) for publication. The official publication of the Association is The Journal of History, Literature, Science and Technology (JHLiST), devoted to the research and investigation pertaining to the theories and practices of science, technology, medicine, history and literature. The journal explores the multidisciplinary “consilience,” the linkage of science and humanities to create insights into human endeavors. The JHLiST is a professionally produced, edited, and peer-reviewed academic journal.

Please submit your article to the journal (jhlist1@gmail.com) by October 15, 2010.

Please refer to the following guidelines when preparing for paper submission:

Author Checklist for Preparing Manuscripts for Publication

For efficient handling of your manuscript when it arrives at the publisher and to streamline the manuscript formatting process we ask that you observe the following formatting guidelines. If you have any questions, feel free to contact us. We have tried to make the following instructions as clear and comprehensive as possible, but all instructions do not apply to all papers.

Before formatting your document, please see section below entitled “Tables, Figures, and Illustrations,” so that said tables, figures, and illustrations are not adversely affected by the formatting process.

I. Basic Formatting

- A. Please submit your article electronically in Microsoft Word or a Microsoft Word compatible format.
- B. 1" margin at the top, bottom, and on each side.
- C. Left justify (align) margins.
- D. Pages should be numbered consecutively in Arabic (not Roman) numerals.
- E. Font type should be Times New Roman and type size should be twelve-point throughout the entire manuscript, including notes, tables, figure captions, etc.
- F. Double space should be used throughout the manuscript. This includes cover sheets, text, extracts, captions, figure legends, notes, references, etc.

- G. LARR uses footnotes, not endnotes. Please use the automatic footnote function in Microsoft Word (not a specialty citation program).
- H. Manuscripts must be no more than ten thousand words including references.

II. Stylistic Formatting

- A. Italicize first instances of individual foreign words that do not appear in the Merriam-Webster's dictionary (11th ed., available online); but phrases, sentences, or names of organizations should appear in Roman font.
- B. Spell out the first instance of all acronyms (afterwards the acronym itself is sufficient), e.g. American Technology Center (ATC).
- C. Spell out numbers one through ninety-nine, unless these refer to percentages (e.g., "fifteen countries," but "15 percent"). If your paper is heavily data-oriented in some places, please leave numerals as is and we will assess the most consistent way to treat them.
- D. Include first and last names with first mention of proper names (e.g., "William Shakespeare," but later, "Skakespeare...") unless speaking to a work itself (e.g., "Mainwaring and Shugart (2000) argue that...").

III. References

- A. JHLiST uses the Author-Date system, that is, parenthetical textual references (with an accompanying reference list). For example: (Mainwaring 1999, 15-17; Shugart 2000).
- B. Each textual reference should correspond to a complete reference in the reference list.
- C. Please always include page numbers for journal articles, chapters, and quotations.
- D. JHLiST uses a reference list which is slightly different from a bibliography. Also, it should be noted that JHLiST uses a reference list format that raises the author(s)'s name above the corresponding bibliographic information. This format is adept at handling many works by a single author or a group of authors. In addition to being aesthetically pleasing, this format makes it easier to scan the reference list.

- E. References appear in chronological order, not most recent first:

Benería, Lourdes

- 1992 "The Mexican Debt Crisis: Restructuring the Economy and the Household." In Unequal Burden: Economic Crises, Persistent Poverty, and Women's Work, edited by Lourdes Benería and Shelley Feldman, 2-

16. Boulder, CO: Westview Press.

1993 Next title (if same author) appears here.

i) The format for book entries is as follows:

Bose, Christine E., and Edna Acosta-Belén

1995 Women in the Latin American Development Process. Philadelphia, PA: Temple University Press.

ii) The format for an article or a chapter in a book is as follows:

Barbero, María Inés

1997 "Argentina: Industrial Growth and Enterprise Organization, 1800s-1980s." In Big Business and the Wealth of Nations, edited by Alfred D. Chandler, Franco Amatori, and Takashi Hikino, 368-393. Cambridge: Cambridge University Press.

iii) The format for journal entries is as follows:

Gonzalez de la Rocha, Mercedes

1995 "Social Restructuring in Two Mexican Cities: An Analysis of Domestic Groups in Guadalajara and Monterrey." The European Journal of Development Research 7 (2): 389-406.

iv) The format for a book published in volumes is as follows:

Cooper, R. N.

1985 "Economic Interdependence and Coordination of Economic Policies." In vol. 2 of Handbook of International Economics, edited by R. W. Jones and P. B. Kenen, 1195-1234. Amsterdam: Elsevier Science B.V.

IV. Tables, Figures, and Illustrations

- A. Each table, figure, and illustration should be on a separate page following the manuscript (after the reference list). Tables will be typeset while figures and illustrations should be "camera-ready" (see below).
- B. Indicate in the text where each item is to appear. For example, type on a separate line in the text: [TABLE 1 ABOUT HERE].
- C. Supply a caption for each figure and illustration. These should be numbered and typed at the end of the electronic file after the back matter. The caption must include source information and the copyright citation when applicable.

V. Permissions

- A. For all figures and illustrations not in the public domain, it is the responsibility of the author to obtain written permission from the copyright holder to reprint the item. Originals of permissions should be sent to the editorial office when the manuscript is submitted.
- B. Permission may also be needed to reprint lengthy excerpts, entire articles, sections of books, and is always required for any amount of poetry and lyrics.
- C. When requesting permission, ask for the copyright holder's preferred wording for the citation of acknowledgement.

VI. General

- A. If using symbols that may be unfamiliar to the copyeditor or typesetter, include a separate sheet of paper listing each symbol and its meaning.
- B. Verify all notes and references against original sources, especially journal titles, accents, diacritics, dates, and spelling in languages other than English.
- C. Finally, please send the final version of your article as an electronic attachment to the Editor-in-chief of Journal of History, Literature, Science and Technology, Professor Song No (jhlist1@gmail.com)

If you have any questions, please feel free to contact jhlist1@gmail.com and we would be more than happy to assist you in the formatting process.
